4th Grade Leprechauns

The fourth graders have been patiently waiting for spring to arrive. We have been staying busy by continuing to master our multiplication facts and short division in Math. The kiddos are getting very good at this thanks to our Rocket math.

We have also been working hard on meeting the standards of our district and state. So parents, please make sure your children are completing their homework assignments at home, these assignments do go toward their daily standard grade.

NeSA testing is also coming soon!! The students will be testing for Reading April 5-8 and Math April 12-15.

In Science, we continue to work on learning about the different types of weather. The students have enjoyed logging onto the weather channel every day for their weather log and tracking all of the strange weather.

In Social Studies, we are learning about slavery and the Underground Railroad.

If you have any questions or concerns regarding your child, our door is always open.

As always, thank you for allowing me to work with your child ©

News from the Kitchen:

What's cooking at the Santee School for Meals:

- We do Offer Verses Serve which means that the children can choose what they want to eat for Breakfast and Lunch.
- For breakfast we OFFER a grain, fruit, juice, and a milk. The child may refuse some option, but must take 2 out of the 3 components for Breakfast.
- For lunch we OFFER a meat and or meat alternate, grain, vegetable, fruit, and Milk. The child may refuse some option, but must take at least 3 of the 5 components.
- If we simply SERVED the meal we would put all three components on the tray for breakfast and all five components on the tray for lunch. Then if the child doesn't like it, it gets thrown away, which causes unwanted waste of food that has been prepared and served.
- We serve a choice of 2 entrées every day for Lunch. The first option is hot lunch. The second option is chef salad. In addition all students have access to a salad bar, water, and a vegetable/fruit juice station where they can choose more vegetables, fruit, juice and water. The stations are self-serve and students are allowed to take as much as they can eat during their lunch time.
- Please come eat with your child anytime!
 Cost of a Meal for adults is: Breakfast:
 $2.00 Lunch: $3.00 Community Lunch: $4.00

Music—Band Ms. Night

Music Scholars are Practicing for our Concert!

Anpetu waste, friends! Your music students are practicing hard for our upcoming K-12 concert on Tuesday, April 12, at 5:00 P.M. This will double as our April Community Night, with a delicious meal to follow the show. We are steadily working to develop our practicing skills – working on a part of a song or piece that we are struggling with until we are comfortable with it. This is honing our patience, both as individual musicians and as ensembles.

Pictured in this article are students from my 8th period Lessons class, working as teams (Thomas and Adrianna), practicing for upcoming events (Lexi), and creating music in Garageband software (Drevon and Joe). All of my high school students are expected to perform in April, the second mandatory concert for them this year. I can't wait for them to show off the skills they are developing!

Your elementary musicians have been working on some difficult songs lately, including music in other languages (Hebrew, Spanish, and Mandarin) and contrasting genres (gospel and folk songs). Ask your student about their favorite musical genre! We use the first few minutes of class to listen to and write about a song, so we are becoming music scholars who can speak well about the music we like or hear.

Coming soon: The Niobrara Valley Conference Band Clinic will be held on Tuesday, March 22, in Neligh. Four high school band students are rehearsing to perform with the honor band, and all eligible high school band students are encouraged to attend and offer support that day. Details to come! Pidamiyaye, Miss Knight

7 & 8th Grade Reading...Mrs. Swalley

Reading at Home

Purpose

To build fluency, comprehension, word-solving and a love for reading in a supportive, loving environment using text at an independent-level.

Guidelines

☑ Sit next to your child while s/he reads so you can see the words & illustrations. DExpect it to be on the easy side.

Make it your child's responsibility to return it school every single day. (Assist as needed 10)

Parents, please make a point to...

Compliment

Word-Solving

When an error is made WAIT to give your child a chance to work on it independently. When you are certain they are going to keep going, stop them saying something like, "Try that again," or "Make it match."

Comprehension

Ask questions that invite recall AND thinking, such as, "Why do you think _ happened?" or "What do you think _ means?" Urge rereading to build comprehension as needed.

Fluency

Model expressive reading & have your child echo read. Encourage just-right pacing (not too fast, not too slow). Demonstrate how to attend to the punctuation (pausing at the end of sentences, adding expression based on the punctuation mark).

- © You used the first letter & checked the picture!!

 © You tried more than one strategy on your own!!

 © Nice job trying a different vowel sound!! Tou tried more than one strategy on your own!!

 - Super work making your eyes go through the beginning, middle & end of that word!
 - OLovely job sticking with it to work on solving!
- 1 You are self-monitoring & working on it when
- it does not make sense!

 Your expression is showing that you understand what you're reading.

 Wonderful job stopping to think about the text instead of reading to just get to the next page!

 You remember the details beautifully!

 - DYou sounded just like the character would sound!
- ©I could hear you take a break after the punctuation marks!
 - 1 You are reading in phrases, not word-by-word!
 - DYour speed is just right! Not too fast or to

Importance of Family Involvement:

Early Childhood Focus

Parents and families have the most direct and lasting impact on children's learning and development of social competence. When parents are involved, students achieve more, exhibit more positive attitudes and behavior, and feel more comfortable in new settings. Early childhood providers need to reach out to families in order to build the kind of relationships that engage them as active partners early in their children's education (National Dropout Prevention Center/Network, 2003).

Families are crucial partners in promoting positive social skills. Home visits, parent visitation to child care or school setting, telephone conversations, newsletters, informal notes, bulletin boards, workshops, and regular face-to-face communication can be used to keep families informed about the specific social skills being focused on in the early childhood setting and for care providers to learn about what families are doing at home. If guidance strategies are to be truly effective, parent involvement and support are crucial. Early care providers need to engage parents as soon as their child is enrolled in the program and ask for assistance in understanding the child's background and the family's goals for the child.

Sensitivity to family and cultural differences is crucial and can be heightened by the care provider's ability to listen and encourage communication. Acceptance of differences in families is essential for each child and parent to feel a sense of belonging in early childhood programs. Mutual respect, cooperation, shared responsibility, and negotiation of differences in opinion between parents and care and education professionals are necessary to achieve shared goals related to the guidance and education of young children.

According to the National Association for the Education of Young Children (1998) Code of Ethical Conduct, professionals' ethical responsibilities to families most related to guidance strategies include:

Develop relationships of mutual trust with families we serve

Acknowledge and build upon strengths and competencies as we support families in their task of nurturing children

Respect the dignity of each family and its culture, language, customs, and beliefs

Respect families' child-rearing values and their right to make decisions for their children

Help family members improve their understanding of their children and enhance their skills as parents

Student Services allows populations elegatere and more diverse in terms of race, ethnicity, and language, early child care providers may need to learn about cultures and family child-raising styles that are different from their own. Families participating in their programs can help them do so. Parents become a respected source of information and are accorded another meaningful role in their child's education. Establishing dialogue and trust is the first step in this process and should include: expressing a desire to learn from the parent, asking for parents' opinions, discussing ways to support the family's values and customs, and acknowledging that there are many points of view on a topic (Sturm, 2003).Excerpt from Promoting Positive Behavior: Guidance Strategies for Early Childhood Settings, by S.K.
